

TRANSPLACE ANNOUNCES ACQUISITION OF TRANSPLACE COMPLIANCE SERVICES BY COMPLIANCE SAFETY SYSTEMS

Company Assumes Leadership Position In Offering A Complete Compliance Solution To Trucking Industry

July 18, 2005 (Plano, Texas) - Transplace, Inc., a logistics technology and transportation management services provider, today announced that Compliance Safety Systems, LLC has purchased the assets of Transplace Compliance Services. Compliance Safety Systems will now offer a system for the trucking industry that helps ensure total compliance with various State and Federal rules regarding Employee DOT files, Drug Testing, and Employee file management.

The acquisition will not have an impact on the features Transplace Compliance Services offered its customers; the only change that customers may notice is a new Web site design. All contracts, pricing, contact info and telephone numbers will remain unchanged. The information system will continue to be hosted in Transplace's data center.

"Since joining forces with Transplace in 2001, we have worked to develop and build a compliance system that manages every state and federal compliance requirement for the trucking industry" said David Saunders, president and CEO of Compliance Safety Systems. "We view the acquisition as a natural extension of our mission to deliver a complete compliance solution. In fact, many customers will not even realize that a change has taken place."

"Releasing this division of Transplace reflects our confidence in the growth and momentum that we have built," said Tom Sanderson, president and COO of Transplace. "This transaction will allow Transplace to focus on our core competencies and value proposition that we provide to our prospective and current customers."
